was the old family Bible of John Wash-buston. The entries made in this Bible by the hand of John Washington were lengthy and would have afforded much impublished information to the blographer of historian of the Washington family. These records. Mr. Skinker says, are probably tretrievably lost, as no other member of the family has them complete. Another of the mutilated Bibles con-tained the family records of the Skinkers back, through a long line of proud and perfess ameritors to a Baron Skinker, or Skynkar, who was cup-tearer to King William of Normandy and England. The records in this Bible were not entirely destroyed and can be largely replaced by another branch of the family that holds duplicates of a portion of the lost rec-ords.
